The Indianapolis Colts will host the Preps Pro Combine at the Colts Training Facility. This combine will give the best high school football players in the state the chance to showcase their skills and ability.

The Preps Pro Combine consists of body measurements, physical tests and position-specific drills. Physical tests are used to determine a player's size, speed, quickness and strength. Position drills allow players to demonstrate their ability in fundamental skill areas necessary for their position. The Indianapolis Colts will test athletes in these specific areas and record results for players and college coaches using an online database and will provide video clips of each athlete.

Limited space is available.
